To Whom It May Concern:

I am adamantly opposed to the State of Idaho taking over management of federal public land.

Idaho has a poor track record of environmental stewardship on their own (state) lands. There is no reason to think that Idaho would manage federal land any differently.

Idaho does not have the money or the inclination to manage these lands appropriately (see above item) for the people of the United States.

Idaho managing federal land seems like the first step on a slippery slope towards blocking public access and towards privatization.

I thank you for the opportunity to state my opinion on this important issue.

Sincerely,

Kristin Frish
